The Aurora of 1959 . . . An Impression of a Christian College

Olivet in 1959; the Aurora presents an impression of that college. It must necessarily be an instantaneous impression. It is our purpose to record and interpret the attitudes which prevailed and the events which occurred on the Olivet campus in the year 1959.

College life—a life made up of friends, classes, coffee breaks, dates, finals—a thousand things. These remain vivid impressions of college. But the thoughts of the Olivet student also turn toward a unique feature of his college life—he is attending a Christian College—a college that is dedicated to teaching the principles of Christianity so that they will be embodied in the every-day life of the individual. Any school which merely prepares its students academically and socially to take their places in the outside world only partially fulfills the purpose of a true education. Olivet seeks to provide each student with the opportunity for a balanced personal development: physical, mental, social, and spiritual.

In reflecting one year's activities, this yearbook gives an impression of the pulsations and purposes of a Christian College—Olivet Nazarene College—our Alma Mater.

One hundred eight acres at a glance

This is the external Olivet—one hundred eight acres at a glance. To obtain an impression of the interworkings of our college, one must first have a panoramic view of its physical aspect.

In scanning the beautiful landscape which holds Olivet, one sees many different types of buildings. The architecture varies from the Greek-style Administration Building to the modern library.

However, there is more to Olivet than merely a few buildings. ONC is alive! As you examine the campus more thoroughly, you will find it busy in activities and you find it at rest from the cares of life. All of these moods play an important role in the many sided life of this college.

The pages ahead depict not only the surface activities but the actual pulsations of Olivet's heart.

NESBITT HALL, named in honor of Miss Mary Nesbitt who was the college's first teacher and only instructor its first year, and her brother, Orla, who was instrumental in founding the college.

The beginning of a dream . . . Nesbitt Hall

In order to meet the steadily rising pressure for enrollment, Olivet is now engaged in a ten-year expansion program to construct five buildings—two residence halls, a Science building, a Chapel-Fine Arts building, and a Student Union building. This year a part of the dream begins to materialize. Nesbitt Hall, the new women's dormitory is under construction. Much of the progress in the expansion program is due to the dynamic leadership of J. Harlan Milby, Assistant to the President.

The Kankakee phase of the drive for funds was organized November 11, with Donald Gray, a local attorney, named as honorary chairman. Here, Walter J. Charlton, Vice President of the First Trust and Savings Bank and a vice chairman of the fund drive, gives his contribution to Mr. Milby.

Charles A. Mueller, President of the City National Bank, gives to the development campaign. He is also a vice chairman in the drive in Kankakeeland.

The President of Kankakee Federal Savings and Loan Association, Wm. A. Schneider, gives his contribution to the fund that Kankakee has pledged to the building program.

J. H. Brinker, General Manager of the A. O. Smith Corp., joins hands with the many other businessmen of Kankakeeland in contributing to the expansion of Olivet.

On March 2, President Reed mounted an excavating machine to signify the start of the new dormitory. From left are, Dr. Reed; Charles Henderson, College Business Manager; Ray J. Benoit, General Contractor; and Adelard Besaillon, Bourbonnais Village Board President.

To Olivet's beloved professors, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Demaray—our impression of a truly Christian couple—we proudly and sincerely dedicate the 1959 Aurora.

For your vast knowledge of the Bible and biblical language and literature, and for the high level at which you impart it to your pupils we honor you, Dr. Demaray.

For your devotion to your profession and your unique manner of making Literature "live" to your students, we pay this special tribute to you, Mrs. Demaray.

Together you have striven to raise the intellectual and cultural level of your Olivetians.

We especially thank you for the endless hours you have spent advising in the literary area of the Aurora for the past several years.

DR. AND MRS. DEMARAY,
YOUR 1959 AURORA!

IN THIS DIVISION :

Spring '58

Summer

Fall

The first impression one has of the student life at the Christian College is similar to that one gets of any other college: entertainment, excitement, and fun.

There is a deeper meaning to student life at Olivet, however, for here we find a more profound purpose in daily living. Whether we are attending classes, participating in church activities, dating, going to all-school parties, or meditating through private devotions, we strive for Christian perfection. His very best in each area is the Christian's goal.

The Robe

One of the outstanding events of the spring was the English Guild's presentation of The Robe. This three-act play, written by John McGreevey, was taken from the best seller of the same name by Lloyd C. Douglas. The Robe depicts the story of a young Roman soldier, Marcellus, who participated in the crucifixion of Christ and who casts lots to win His robe. Following the crucifixion Marcellus became troubled and obsessed with thoughts of the Galilean and His followers. Through this experience Marcellus came to be a follower of Christ.

Marcellus was dynamically portrayed by Darel Grothaus. Demetrius, the devoted slave of Marcellus, was dramatically characterized by Fred Lee. Shirley Collier portrayed Lucia, the vivacious young sister of Marcellus, and Pat Thornton beautifully depicted Diana, the attractive fiancee of Marcellus.

Student Body Election . . . Posters and Promises

Last spring the campus was decorated with posters, signs, flags, and even a little flower garden in the old bird bath in front of Chapman Hall. Among the students the main topics of conversation were the promises set forth in the platforms of the Practical and Progressive parties and the qualifications of their candidates. The candidates for both parties had the necessary qualifications to fulfill the offices should they be elected. The results were Keith Sheffer as president of the Associated Student Body, and Miriam Hall and Chuck Nichols as the secretary and treasurer respectively.

Graduation . . .

Only the Beginning . . .

The student brings his college life to a close upon graduation. The years spent at Olivet are soon but a memory—an impression.

Through four years at Olivet he has taken of her best and now he is prepared to face his future in the outside world. He leaves Olivet, but he carries with him the ideals and truths which she has instilled within him—and which shall live forever.

To him graduation is only the beginning. The benefits which he has received from student life and the environment of a Christian college he will share with a needy world.

Summer

Final exams completed and graduation become history, the majority of Olivet's students depart, going in many directions to engage in various activities throughout the summer.

Most of the students return home seeking employment to enable them to acquire another year's education. Some remain on campus to attend Olivet's summer session. A select number are chosen to travel in trios and quartets to represent Olivet on the various districts of the educational zone. A few fortunate students enjoy the experience of a trip abroad as a part of Olivet's European Study Tour.

With its stately elms and spacious lawn, Olivet provides an attractive setting for a summer session of school. The summer session is designed to serve students who wish to accelerate their academic programs.

Summer School . . . Accelerated Study

By adjusting the period lengths, the college offers regular semester credit courses under the same teachers who teach courses during the regular school years. Here, on the lawn, Dr. Snowbarger instructs a course in Political Science.

A class studying soils, under the direction of John Paschke, soil scientist from the U. S. Department of Soil Conservation, observe their subject as they absorb the lectures.

three months of adventure

Twenty members of the Olivet European tour group sailed from New York on June 3 on the Dutch student ship, S.S. Groote Beer, along with about seven hundred other American college students and teachers.

One night was spent at a manor house near Stratford-on-Avon. Students are boarding chartered coach to go to see Shakespeare's Twelfth Night.

England

Of striking interest to the newly-arrived Olivet students was the imposing west front of Wells Cathedral, built in the thirteenth century. The students reported that the course in Fine Arts was particularly helpful in preparing them for the trip.

Under the direction of Dr. Carl Bangs, Olivet launched its first European Study Tour in the summer of 1958. Twenty-one students, professors, alumni, and friends spent sixty-seven days in England, Scotland, The Netherlands, Belgium, France, Switzerland, Italy, Austria, and Germany. They travelled an estimated forty-five hundred miles within Europe itself on six busses, ten ships and boats, and five trains and aerial tramways. The tour included places of historical and architectural interest (fifty-five cathedrals and churches, according to the weary travelers), museums, major cities, schools and universities, and places of scenic beauty. The group visited Nazarene ministers and laymen in Bristol, Bolton, and London, England, in Glasgow and Edinburgh, Scotland, in Frankfort, Germany, and in Florence, Italy. In Bolton and Glasgow they were entertained in the homes of church members.

At points of major interest, local guides, mostly graduate students or professors in European universities, lectured on items of local importance. Experts in history, art, politics, literature, and music made their services available to the students. Dr. Bangs provided general lectures and guidance.

It was exhilarating to enjoy the freshness of a cool, sunny day in the Highlands. Here, in the "Lady of the Lake" country, Olivet students stand on a knoll amid bluebells and heather.

By high road and low road the group reached Loch Lomond, where they enjoy the view of Ben Lomond on the right and the Highlands in the distance.

Scotland

Visits to the birthplace of David Livingstone at Blantyre, to Edinburgh's Castle and Royal Mile, to the Highland lakes made famous by Sir Walter Scott, and to Stirling Castle made the days in Scotland a high point of the tour. Perhaps the finest thing, however, was the opportunity to become acquainted with the people of Scotland. At the Parkhead Church of the Nazarene in Glasgow, the Rev. Sydney Martin and the N.Y.P.S. provided excellent entertainment. After a sumptuous tea, there were tram rides through town and then late suppers in the various homes.

An unscheduled activity for some of the group was a train ride back to Glasgow from Edinburgh for another youth meeting in the church. It would have been easy to linger, but rigid schedules had to be kept.

Germany

The students found Germany to be a land of contrasts. In medieval Rothenburg, for instance, they visited a bakery which has operated continuously in the same building since 1182. In Frankfurt-am-Main, on the other hand, they found an ultra modern business district which has arisen from the ruins of wartime bombing. Here they are seen entering Beethoven's birthplace in Bonn (above, left) and chatting with Herr Hoenig, their guide in Oberammergau (above right).

Switzerland

Switzerland was frankly a vacation stop, with an aerial tram ride to the top of Mt. Pilatus and early morning hikes in the alpine meadows. Geneva, however, was important for visits to the United Nations headquarters and the World Council of Churches refugee relief department. On the way to Italy the group explored the dungeons and turrets of the Castle of Chillon (right).

France

This is not an Olivet student. It is a gargoyle overlooking Paris from the tower of the Cathedral of Notre Dame, one of the Parisian attractions on the tour.

After two days at the Brussels World Fair (below, right), the tour crossed into France, for four days at Paris. What a variety of activities to keep one busy—the Louvre, the Eiffel Tower, the Sorbonne, the Metro! With home base in the Latin Quarter on the Left Bank, the group ventured forth to conquer the city. Memories: the 140 franc cup of coffee, warm cokes, the sunlight in the Sainte Chapelle, Dr. Bangs' fractured French, LeCorbusier's unconventional chapel at Ronchamps, some unconventional signs, continental breakfasts (coffee, roll, marmalade).

Italy

The Italian portion of the tour included Milan, Pisa, Siena, Rome, Florence, and Venice. The weather was warm, the men were friendly, and the food was good. The art treasures were unsurpassed. Venice was beyond expectations. Nazarenes in Florence provided a warm welcome to their city.

The group found in Assisi, Italy, a 12th century atmosphere reminiscent of the times of its hero, St. Francis.

The Ambassador Quartet, composed of Jack Proctor, Keith Powell, George Baker, and Ted Griffin, will be the school's representatives at the Iowa District Camp Meeting. They will tour several districts and visit some of the assemblies.

Summer Representatives

Under the supervision of J. W. Swearengen, Field Secretary, Olivet promotes an extensive program of student recruitment. During the summer months faculty members and musical groups travel over the entire educational zone representing Olivet.

This summer Rev. Swearengen with the help of four faculty members and three musical groups will attend youth conventions, tour various districts, and visit district assemblies. They will present concerts and school services and will talk personally with prospective students—a most important part of the student recruitment program. As college representatives they enable pastors and laymen to see and hear what the college is doing and how it is progressing in various ways.

The Carolaires, Beth Hatcher, Marilyn Kremer, Roberta Cosner, and Lee Bolland will be singing in several assemblies and youth conventions and various churches.

The Crusaders, Ovid Young, Darel Grothaus, Roger Kennedy and Roger McMurrin will be youth workers at the Central Ohio District Camp Meeting. This group will also tour districts and visit youth conventions and district assemblies.

Fall

Before autumn's first leaves fall, Olivet's campus is alive with activities. From the first September days on through spring, the student is caught in the inevitable whirl of college life.

Class elections, football under lights, adjustment to studying, and social activities color the busy days, creating in the student various moods and emotions.

The student enters the new school year anticipating the best, but the outcome realized is contingent upon the student himself.

The new freshmen spend a large part of the day during orientation taking tests to determine their courses and to aid the counselors in helping them choose a vocation.

Orientation An Adjustment Program

The freshmen have a chance to meet the President and Mrs. Reed at a tea.

Adjustment to a new way of life is necessarily a complicated endeavor, and Olivet does her best to lend a helping hand through the orientation program. The aim of the program is to extend a personalized welcome to the new student, and to acquaint him with some of the regulations and processes of the Olivet campus. Every possible method is used to make the bewildered freshman feel that he is among friends. To the entering student, attendance at college is essentially a withdrawal from the familiar environment of home and family. To him, college is at first a mere hurried routine of academic procedures. But soon he realizes that life in a Christian College transcends the purely academic. He discovers that here Christian fellowship and diversion are a part of the Olivet daily program. He learns to choose features of Olivet life that interest him . . . and suddenly he feels at home.

Classes Begin 7:30 Monday Morning

Orientation and registration completed, the student becomes occupied with inevitable class schedules and study habits, which are his daily routine.

How hard it is to awaken for that 7:30 a.m. class those first few days. Classes throughout the morning and afternoon seem to leave no time at all for diversion. Blue-books and unannounced quizzes become grim realities and grades loom as all-important. The A and B grades are somehow much more elusive than they were in high school. It takes more than a little effort to get and keep them, and steadily the mountains of homework accumulate until students despair of ever bringing their work up to date. The week-end is looked to as a chance to "catch up on everything," but usually it is only a chance for the student to "catch his breath" before facing another busy week.

Chapel . . .

Dr. George Reed, chairman of the Parole Board of the federal government, and brother of our President, delivered a Chapel message concerning his field of work.

The Chapel period is one of the privileges exclusive to a Christian College. This is an hour set aside four days a week when the entire student body is gathered together for a spiritual break from the daily routine of classes and study.

This family devotional period provides the students with special speakers on various phases of Christian life. Throughout the year we have heard outstanding leaders in the Nazarene Church, missionaries, Christian businessmen, and many of our own faculty members and students.

Music is provided by the student body.

Once each month there is a chapel convocation in which the program is provided by one of the various clubs on the campus.

Our Student Body president, Keith Sheffer, challenges the students to a higher loyalty to Olivet.

. . . A Break Between Classes for a Spiritual Lift

Lester Johnson, returned missionary, delivers a vital message about our work on the foreign field.

The newly formed Chapel Choir, under the direction of Prof. Donald Murray, performs periodically in Chapel services.

As soon as chapel and classes are over everyone makes his way to the Universe (Profs and students alike).

Jane is just a typical student when she checks her mail hoping it brings the much wanted news from home.

After Classes . . . Coffee Breaks . . .

Perhaps the most popular activity is the coffee break; many a problem is solved and many a friendship renewed over a cup of coffee. Conversations cover all the important problems of life—from dating to religion.

... And Study

At the college level, individual studying and research become a large part of education. Erratic high school study habits are no longer adequate; the individual must learn to plan his time and his methods. Very few adhere to a rigid schedule, but some degree of organization is necessary. No matter how much planning the student does, however, there never seems to be time enough to get everything done. Concentration is a fine art which must be carefully cultivated and developed to the point where one can study anywhere at any time in the face of all manner of distractions.

In the library there is a vast number of books on almost every subject with an open-stack system that makes the material easily and quickly accessible to the students.

Reading becomes almost a way of life to the business student, who spends the greater part of his studying time absorbed in appallingly weighty tomes. Occasionally, however, the gravity of these intellectual pursuits must give way to somewhat lighter fare, and the struggling-to-be businessman takes time out to indulge his fancy in material which appears to be completely irrelevant and immaterial to the field of business.

Miller Dining Hall

Housing

At Olivet, dormitories are the places called home. More than just a place to sleep and study, a dorm is a place to make new and lasting friendships, and to learn to live with others.

The housing problem is intensified by each new influx of students and temporary solutions seem less and less effective. Construction of the new girl's dormitory, Nesbitt Hall, will relieve this problem.

The ups and downs of dorm life turn into cherished memories, and are a very essential part of life at Olivet.

Traditions

Traditions are an essential part of Olivet's life. Many changes occur on the college campus each year, altering its physical appearance; yet through adherence to life-long customs Olivet has been able to maintain her zealous campus spirit.

Paramount among Olivet's traditions are Freshman Labor Day, Tip-Off, Twirl Week, Junior Retreat, Faculty Retreat, Club Day, and Rush Day. Some of these activities are relatively new while others have been observed through the years. Each tradition has developed through a definite purpose and all combined add the necessary color to the student's college life.

The day of "O" Club Initiation is met with mixed emotions. The member-elect is eager for the day to arrive for he knows at its close he will be an official member of the organization. But he dreads the fatal day for he knows from past experience that initiation is by no means pleasant or easy.

"O" Club is one of Olivet's most exclusive clubs. Its members are the Olivet athletic lettermen. To become a member the athlete must be an "All-Star" in one of the major sports. To many, initiation may seem gruesome and a bit unnecessary, but members feel that the privileges the club offers are well worth the ordeal of initiation.

"O" Club Initiation

Air Raid! Everybody down!

Freshman Labor Day

Freshman Labor Day began at six o'clock in the morning. From that time on throughout the day the freshmen served the sophomores relentlessly.

In the dining hall many trays were carried and "unusual" breakfasts eaten by the frosh. Mopping floors, polishing furniture, shining shoes, and ironing clothes were major services done for the sops in the dorms.

After working for the sophomores all day, the freshmen settled back and enjoyed hilarious entertainment at a party provided by the sophomores.

Club Day . . .

Olivet's eleven academic and professional clubs sponsor "Club Day" shortly after the beginning of the fall semester. This year each club prepared a booth on the tennis court, granting every member of the student body an opportunity to join. Club day is of special benefit to the freshmen, who may be unaware of the various clubs and the purposes of each.

Dave registers for the Platonian Philosophical Society.

... Rush Day

Soon after school starts in the fall each of the societies, Indians, Spartans, and Trojans, make preparation for "Rush Day." This is a lively day for all in the "Universe." There, after chapel, each society displays a booth and enrolls in its membership all freshmen it can induce by propaganda and auctioneering efforts to join its organization.

The Student Council this year awarded a cash prize of fifteen dollars to the society whose display excelled in the qualifications of originality, beauty of composition, and portrayal of theme.

The Spartan Society's display, which won first prize, consisted of a cleverly constructed jet rocket with smoke emanating from the tail—an attraction to everyone.

Beautiful maidens imprisoned in a medieval castle tower, guarded by handsome knights, were the center of attraction in the Trojans' contribution.

A typical Indian scene complete with a canoe floating down a "make-believe" stream through a green forest was created by the Indian Society.

Faculty Retreat

After the bustle of registration and the first few hectic days of classes Olivet's weary faculty members retreat for two days to some place of interest for physical relaxation and spiritual and mental stimuli. This year the group went to picturesque Spring Mill State Park in Mitchell, Indiana.

At the retreat the faculty mixed constructive discussion with their fun. The theme of the discussion was "The Philosophy of Education at Olivet." The head of each department presented a paper on the Philosophy of Education in his particular field.

While the faculty was away, student leaders assumed all the official positions left vacant. The school day commenced as any usual day with students teaching all classes. On Saturday evening, upon the return of the faculty, the students welcomed them back with a well-planned reception.

Tip-Off

Seventeen years ago Olivet observed her first Homecoming Tip-Off celebration. At this beginning the Tip-Off game between "O" Club and alumni was the entire entertainment. In recent years it has grown into a gala weekend with many features anticipated each year by the faculty, student body, alumni, and friends.

Added to Tip-Off activities are the parade, coronation of the Tip-Off Queen, the alumni tea, an afternoon football game, and the sacred concert, sponsored by the Division of Fine Arts, featuring vocal and instrumental numbers by outstanding alumni.

Throughout Tip-Off, Olivet's motto "Education with a Christian Purpose" is portrayed. Until recent years the Chapel speaker, a noted alumnus, was the only religious speaker. As Tip-Off became a weekend event College Church placed emphasis upon special services on Sunday. The pastor has made famous the slogan "Top off Tip-Off with Sunday School."

Tip-Off means hustle-filled days, preparing the campus for the returning alumni. During these few days one exciting interest after another occupies the students. Many hours are spent by the "O" Club teams in practice, by members of various clubs and organizations preparing the floats and the throne for the Queen's coronation, and by Orpheus members rehearsing for the Homecoming concert.

Though the alumni and the student body are opponents throughout the Tip-Off game, all become one united body in the singing of Olivet's beloved "Alma Mater" and in their worship in the Sunday services.

The Olivet Marching Band gave the history of the Church of the Nazarene for their half-time performance.

Rev. Earl Morgan, missionary to Italy, delivered the chapel message for Tip-Off.

The Science Club plans for "a greater tomorrow . . ." a new science building.

A greater tomorrow was the theme of Olivet's sixth annual Homecoming Tip-Off parade. Under the auspices and general direction of the Student Council, the parade consisted of seventeen floats.

The route of the parade, which was headed by Olivet's Marching Band and Drill Team, was through Bourbonnais, Bradley, and Kankakee.

Before the procession, all of the floats were judged by a selected committee composed of two members of the Kankakee Civic Art Club and Prof. Rockwell Brank, head of Olivet's Art Department. Three prizes of fifteen dollars each were presented at the Tip-Off game to those organizations whose floats best evidenced originality—Missionary Band; beauty and workmanship—Commerce Club; and best representation of the theme—Science Club.

QUEEN'S COURT: Sally Davis, Marilyn Trimble, Joy Mangum, Queen; Carolyn Birchard, Pat Thornton.

Coronation

One of the outstanding events of the Tip-Off Homecoming festivities is the coronation of the Homecoming Queen. This tradition was initiated in 1952. The queen who must be either a junior or a senior is elected by majority vote of the student body.

Our 1958 Homecoming Queen, Joy Mangum, from Louisville, Kentucky, truly exemplifies these qualities: spirituality, loveliness, vivaciousness—an ideal example of the Christian college student. The Olivet family is proud of Joy, pleased she is one of us, and we are proud of each member of her court. We present them to you—Carolyn Birchard, Sally Davis, Marilyn Trimble, and Patricia Thornton.

Girls Game

Tip-Off, along with its more formal events, also allows for some enjoyable recreation. The recreational climax is reached as the majority of the student body, and equally as many outside friends and relatives, stream into a local field house for the annual Tip-Off Basketball games.

The girls are the first to battle it out. Chosen players from former teams unite against a well-qualified girls' "O" Club team.

As this year's game progressed, there was never a dull moment. A surprisingly alert alumni team caused the "O" Club to stress teamwork. As the ending buzzer was just about to sound, Bobbie Hunter successfully completed a long shot, and the game ended by a breathtaking score of 40-39. The "O" Club team had won. Special recognition goes to an efficient "O" Club defense and to Hickler, of the alumni team, who was top scorer of the game with 31 points.

Alumni Makes a Long Shot.

Boy's Game

Basketball at Olivet begins with the Tip-Off weekend. This is the grand homecoming event where all the outstanding alumni basketball players return to again take the "hard-wood" in efforts to beat the well-trained "O" Club men. This year's game was in no way lacking in excitement as enthusiastic spectators watched a well-played game by both teams.

Although the final score of 78 to 69 gave the "O" Club men a comfortable victory, it was just the opposite of a run-away. The alumni players must have been training themselves, for they certainly put up a tremendous battle. Only a better-played second half gave "O" Club its necessary lead. Scoring honors for the event went to Jerry Petrie of the "O" Club team, and to Vern Fischer of the alumni team.

In keeping with her tradition of a "Ministry in Music," Olivet Nazarene College gave the 23rd annual presentation of the Messiah in cooperation with the choirs of the churches of the Kankakee community.

The choirs presented the Messiah in three performances at the College Church. This was the third consecutive year that three presentations have been necessary to accommodate the number who wanted to hear the immortal religious classic.

Beethoven's trio for piano, clarinet and viola, "Op. 11, No. 4," was played by Naomi Larsen, Harlow Hopkins, and Jewell Flaugher.

Faculty Recital

The second annual faculty recital was presented Saturday, October 10, in College Church. Now a traditional event, the concert was excellent in program and presentation, as the members of the Fine Arts faculty performed.

Daniel Liddell, tenor, presented a composition, "This Son So Young," by White.

"Thou Art the Rock" by Mulet was the selection played by Kenneth Bade, organist.

Robert Brown, pianist, performed Schubert's "Impromptu Op. 142, No. 4."

Ruth Chung, soprano, sang a Korean folk song, "Yang-san-Do", and Haydn's, "Oh, How Pleasing to the Senses."

Evangeline Burtsch
Soprano

Keith Sheffer
Trumpet

Linda Luttrell
Soprano

Senior Recitals

Seniors who are candidates for a Bachelor of Science degree in Music Education present a recital interpreting literature of various periods. The first recital of the school year was presented March 14 by Marilyn Cassells and Linda Luttrell. Selections by Mendelssohn, Beethoven, Purcell, and Grieg were featured on their program. The highlight of Evangeline's concert on April 18 was "Grief and Pain" from Bach's "St.

Matthew's Passion." Martha Reed and Keith Sheffer displayed their talents on April 21 in a combined recital. Different selections composed of Gounod, Bach, and Haydn were some of the numbers given by these Senior soloists. In the final senior concert of the year, on May 5, Faye Seiffert sang selections, some by Faure, Ravel, Handel and Thomas.

Distinguished Lecturers

With an interest in cultural subjects and a desire for furthering their knowledge, the student body goes to be entertained, enlightened, and stimulated spiritually by noted men from the wide world of wisdom and art. Programs range from political debates to everyday religion. Through this means the student is able to dissolve the confining campus boundaries and to spend an hour in a world whose scope is limited only by human imagination. Later animated discussions prolong the interest of the evening's event. As the student resumes his studies, he has a broadened outlook, a realization that the horizons of the world of reality extend far beyond the Olivet world and even the previously contemplated "real" world.

H. Orton Wiley, one of the leading theologians of the Nazarene Church, gave a series of lectures on the Book of Hebrews, which he had prepared over a period of forty years.

Dr. C. A. Gibson, who has had long experience in the church, gave a series of lectures on "First Things in the Ministry."

S. S. White, editor of the official organ of the Church of the Nazarene, The Herald of Holiness, gave a series of lectures on "Systematic Theology."

Dr. J. F. Leist of the Olivet faculty, gave a series of lectures on "Great Chapters in the Old Testament."

Mrs. Williamson, one of the lyceum speakers, gave dramatic readings.

Dr. Walter Judd, a former medical missionary and an outstanding Christian congressman, spoke on the subject "Crisis in the Far East."

Dr. Pendray, a space expert, gave an illustrated lecture on "The Conquest of Space."

"When was the last you ate, Mr. Skyer, I mean Guyer?"

Weekend Diversions

A Midnight Escapade

Masquerading faculty members contribute to the spirit of fun.

A satire of the play "Blue Beard" was presented. Here Larry Kennedy, knight in shining armor, seizes Blue Beard and leads him to his punishment.

Bobbing for apples was the requirement for admittance.

Ghosts, Scott Williams and Monty Lobb, make the refreshments (dill pickles, peanut butter sandwiches, and black cocoa) seem even worse by exhibiting a wounded dummy.

The Dead Beats entertain with spooky renditions of familiar tunes.

"We're riding along, singing a song of a wintry fairyland."

For Christmas . . . An Alpine Holiday

"Alpine Holiday" the annual semi-formal Christmas party, was held in the Bourbonnais Elementary School Auditorium, which was decorated with pine boughs and colored lights, snow-frosted Christmas trees, a fire place, and a huge picture window, all depicting a lodge high in the Swiss Alps.

Paul Cunningham emceed the musical program, featuring the Olivetians. George Baker, an instrumental group led by Jack Proctor, and the Collegians—Boyd Fees, Chuck Millhuff, Rick Withrow, and Bob Judd—added their talents to the occasion. Creating the holiday mood throughout the evening were Ovid Young, organist, and Sidne Oden, pianist.

The highlight of the evening was a delicious Scandinavian smorgasbord. The entertainment, atmosphere, and food combined to make "Alpine Holiday" the most elaborate all-school party sponsored by the Social Committee this year.

The Collegians croon a melancholy version of "I'll Be Home for Christmas, if Only in My Dreams."

Traditionally, engagements are announced at the Christmas Parties; Congratulations, Scott!

"I hear sweet voices singing as evening shadows fall . . ."

Valentine's Day . . . Moonlight and Roses

A romantic atmosphere was provided for the semi-formal Valentine party. Throughout the civic auditorium the theme "Moonlight and Roses" was portrayed with red roses entwined around large white trellises.

The stage setting was a park scene, with a city skyline as a background.

Mistress of ceremonies for the evening's entertainment was Carolyn Shrum, Social Committee chairman. Vocal and instrumental numbers were presented in the park scene creating a sentimental mood. Shirley Collier and Keith Powell, typical young lovers; Dena Sayes and Terry MacKay, "puppy lovers," and other entertainers completed the program.

The program was climaxed with the performers and guests combining to sing "Moonlight and Roses." Each lady was presented one red rose as a reminder of the theme.

"Might as well make believe I love you . . . for to tell the truth, I do."

Couldn't you? Couldn't I? Couldn't we?

"Moonlight and Roses bring wonderful memories of you."

"I dreamed of Jeannie with her light brown hair."

The Sabbath Day . . .

A Time For Worship

An effective Christian life finds need of worship with others . . .

After a busy week of college classes and other activities, the student is thankful for the Sabbath, a day when he can forget the cares and problems of the week and find rest in communion with God.

The Sunday morning worship service at College Church creates an atmosphere of reverence which is stressed throughout the day, in the work of the Evangelists, in afternoon "quiet hours," in NYPS, and in the Sunday evening services.

These services of worship and fellowship lend much to the student's spiritual life, but more valuable are his own private devotional periods. Through his secluded communion with God he finds much for which to thank and praise God. The deeper life is found behind the closed door.

. . . and communion with God behind the closed door.

Being a Christian institution and an accredited liberal arts college, Olivet has much to offer to its students. O.N.C. provides a background of general knowledge, a basis for specialized training, and a discipline of mind and character through study and instruction.

Clarification of one's principles and an increased sensitivity to basic values are brought about through higher education. This training makes the discipline of study significant as one applies his new ideas and concepts to the Christian faith.

Administration

Dr. Harold W. Reed became the president of Olivet Nazarene College in 1949. A recognized educator and scholar, Dr. Reed holds degrees from several colleges and universities, and appears in Who's Who in America and in Who's Who in the Midwest. An ordained minister, he takes special interest in church organization and has written books in this field. During Dr. Reed's term of office, several major developments have taken place. Through his leadership the college has broadened its educational offerings, reorganized its curriculum into six major divisions, and constructed a new, fully equipped library. The college was granted full accreditation by North Central Association in 1956. Since Dr. Reed came in 1949, the members of the faculty with earned doctorates have increased from three to sixteen.

Dr. Reed has been most insistent in maintaining Olivet's high educational standards and spiritual emphasis. An extensive building program, including the new dormitory which is now under construction, has been undertaken to meet the demands of the increasing enrollment, and to improve Olivet's services to its constituency.

Dr. and Mrs. Reed

The Board of Trustees of Olivet Nazarene College is composed of ministerial and lay members elected annually at the district assemblies on the Educational Zone. Districts with less than 5,000 membership elect two members, plus their District Superintendent, as trustees to Olivet Nazarene College; and districts with over 5,000 membership are entitled to elect three members, in addition to their District Superintendent.

The Board of Trustees meets biannually in February and in May and is responsible for the general supervision of the College, having direction and control of its policies and expenditures.

Departments and Faculty

The faculty of any college is responsible for reaching and maintaining the standards and goals of the institution.

A Christian liberal arts college must maintain an academic program of high quality in order to prepare Christian youth to serve the world in all areas. Olivet ably does so, possessing a faculty of learned men and women, sixteen holding doctoral degrees and many others working toward that goal.

Preparing a sociogram to determine the social adjustment of children, discovering that the line between normality and abnormality in psychology may not be very precise, and applying methods courses to practice teaching are typical activities of students in the Division of Education and Psychology.

Included in the Division of Education and Psychology are the Departments of Education, Psychology, and Physical Education.

The Division gives the student an understanding of human behavior, emphasizing good mental and physical health through theory and practice; it helps the student make vocational preparation in the fields represented in the Division and helps him see the practical application of Christianity in these fields of service.

Natural Sciences

Microscope, oscilloscope, spectroscope—these machines and others become familiar to the many students enrolled in the science courses offered here at Olivet. Each of these areas of exploration—biology, physics, chemistry, and mathematics—give opportunities for a future Curie or Einstein to gain an understanding of the many fields covered in the curriculum. Bird calls and heredity laws have to be learned. Crayfish and frogs fall before dissecting knives. Advanced mathematics is employed in such fields as magnetism, circuit and static electricity, and lights. The chemist's work with acids, metals, and crystals takes the students into well-known areas, while the study of the atom carries them into unexplored regions. Experiments with burning acids, rusting metals, and exploding crystals provide a background for future work.

To acquaint the student with the scientific method as a means of arriving at the truth and to show that there is harmony between science and religion are important objectives of the Division of Natural Sciences.

Religion and Philosophy

Through a life of Christian commitment and a discipline of clear thinking, students seek to achieve spiritual maturity. In the classes in religion and philosophy they become acquainted with the religious, cultural, and scriptural heritage of the Christian faith, and are led to a deeper knowledge of salvation in Christ. Through the various methods of thought, they find a philosophy of life in harmony with Biblical revelation and reason.

The study of the Bible and of the lives, thoughts and contributions of the greatest theologians and philosophers constitutes the major emphasis. Special attention is given to the life and thought of John Wesley and to his teaching and preaching of the doctrine of entire sanctification. Through a systematic study of theology, students gain a fuller knowledge of the Christian faith and of the doctrines of the Church.

This year the students and faculty of the division enjoyed special lectures by Doctors Gibson, White, and Wiley—three outstanding theologians and leaders of our church.

Learning that "crime does not pay," considering problems of marital life, discussing industry-wide collective bargaining, trying to understand the role of associations in American democratic society, struggling with problems in accounting, considering the effects of a national bank in establishing a country's economy, and planning diets and home furnishing are all facets of education in the social science division.

The objective of this division is to acquaint the students with the scientific method as applied to social relationships.

The background acquired by a social science major makes him aware of the community problems and civic responsibilities of each citizen and gives him an understanding of human nature by which he learns to better adjust to new situations and to other people and to realize the influence which he as a Christian businessman, social worker, economist, civil service employee, or lawyer can exert in the professional world.

Viewing the Balkan watercolors, attending the "pop" concert of the Chicago Symphony, singing "Amazing Grace" with the Orpheus Choir, or visiting the Conn Instrument Company are obvious pleasures of the students of the fine arts division.

We learn the art of conduction by leading our classmates in choral and instrumental literature. The practice teacher becomes better prepared through the application of methods of elementary and secondary music presented on a workshop-lecture basis.

Through our courses in fine arts, we learn to recognize the difference between Roman and Gothic architecture, we learn to look for religious symbolism in Michelangelo's paintings in the Sistine Chapel, and become familiar with the artist Rembrandt. Learning to interpret the compositions of Bach, Handel, and Mozart gives scope to our cultural appreciation.

Whether we listen to a composition by Beethoven or Stravinsky, or seek the artist's meaning in a beautiful painting, we are fulfilling the objective of the division—to develop an intelligent appreciation of and desire for the arts that will be of lasting value to every student.

The study of the languages besides giving a student a better understanding and command of his own language makes him realize, possibly for the first time, what foreign culture has contributed to his own way of life through the arts, sciences, medicine and aviation—a realization that makes for better world understanding.

The study of literature in college not only gives one a better understanding and appreciation of the great masterpieces of literature but also makes him know something of the social, political, and philosophical forces that influence the thought of the poet, the dramatist, the novelist.

The student begins to appreciate a work of literature as a work of art and an expression of life—to see the balance between the thought and the form of an epic and to feel the emotion that underlies a lyric.

Familiarity with poetry sharpens his perceptions, and heightens his awareness of life, its beauty, its pathos, its complexities.

Olivet Nazarene College presents sixteen to WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES. Election to this distinctive, nationally recognized organization is based upon character, scholarship, participation in extra-curricular activities, service to the school and potentiality for future usefulness in business and society. The honored students are presented with a certificate of recognition and are privileged to wear the official key. A biography of each student is included in the current volume of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, a book which serves as a guide for personnel managers who are seeking capable college graduates.

Olivet Nazarene College congratulates and honors her most versatile students. May each life be as useful and successful in the future as it has been in college.

KEITH SHEFFER

Keith, president of the Associated Students, has been an able and sincere leader throughout the year. Possessing a business-like mind and appearance, he has assumed the responsibilities of his office, as well as the honor. Keith is a music education major and has been active in the entire music program, belonging to various organizations and acting as president of the band. Interested in sports, he is a member of "O" Club, participating in most of the major sports. May our president continue to serve others as he has served us.

"... If any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all, and servant of all." Mark 9:35

CHARLES NICHOLS

Chuck has been our responsible, capable student body treasurer. A business administration major, he was business manager of the 1958 AURORA. Chuck has initiated a streamlined system of handling Student Council funds. He has also served as an officer of the Commerce Club and as a member of Science Club, M.R.I.A. Council, and Student Tribunal. Chuck's friendly personality plus ability and knowledge of his field will insure his future success in the business world.

"Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and not be afraid . . ." Isaiah 40:31

SALLY DAVIS

Sally, editor of the 1958 AURORA, has been a versatile campus leader. Her willing attitude and eagerness to co-operate has made her useful to Olivet. An English major, her interests have led her into many areas. A member of Orpheus Choir, Olivetians, English Guild, and Student Council, Sally has also been a class officer and a Student Prayer Band officer. She was a member of 1958 Tip-Off Queen's Court. With her many talents, Sally will always contribute much to those who know her.

"But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint." Isaiah 40:31

MIRIAM HALL

Miriam has the distinction of being Olivet's first student council secretary elected by the student body-at-large. She is well qualified for this position and has fulfilled it most efficiently this year. A high calling has been Miriam's inspiration, challenging her to reach the high goals she has attained in scholarship and service. She is an elementary education major and has been a member of the Honor Society, S.E.A., Missionary Band, Personnel Committee, and the Glimmerglass Staff. May God's best be hers as she follows where He leads.

"... lo, I am with you always even unto the end of the world." Matthew 28:20.

JAMES DIEHL

Jim, our senior theology leader, held the position of Student Prayer Band President last year. He has further displayed his leadership abilities by being president of his Freshman and Sophomore classes. Jim was a member of Missionary Band, Ministerial Fellowship, and Student Council. Fervent with the desire to tell others of Christ and win them to Him, he will be used of God to do great things in His service.

"I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me." Philippians 4:13

JOYCE MANGUM

Joy, our 1958 Tip-Off Queen, has proven herself worthy of this high honor through her radiant smile and devoted Christian character. As one of our most enthusiastic students, Joy has served her school well as Glimmerglass editor, class officer, vice-president of W.R.A., and Student Council representative. She was an active member of English Guild, AURORA Staff, and Honor Society. A religious education major, we predict that she will serve God and her church in an even greater measure than she has her college.

"Trust in the Lord with all thine heart and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths." Proverbs 3:5, 6

CHARLES JAMES

Charlie, president of M.R.H.A., is truly the leader of the Seniors—having served as class president both junior and senior years. His amiable personality and ever-ready sense of humor has made him a friend to all. Charlie has been a member of the Sociology Club, English Guild, Science Club, Commerce Club, Student Council, and has participated in softball, football, and track. He is a business administration major. The senior class extends to him a sincere thank you, wishing him life's best.

"I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." Philippians 3:14

TONYA BEALS

Tonya, our editor of the Glimmerglass, has served in this capacity with competence and skill. A transfer student from Trevecca Nazarene College in her junior year, Tonya adjusted to our campus readily and has made a loyal and worthy Olivetian, of whom we are proud. She is an English major and has been a member of the Sociology Club, English Guild, S.E.A., Student Council, and W.R.A. Council. May the coming years be as successful and promising to her as have the past.

"The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want." Psalms 23:1

LINDA LUTTRELL

Linda, Olivet's golden soprano, has been honored as soloist in Olivet's presentation of "The Messiah" for the past three years. She is a music education major and was a member of Orpheus Choir, Orchestra, Treble Tone Trio, and was president of the Music Educator's Club. She also belonged to the Honor Society, Glimmerglass Staff, AURORA Staff, and Student Tribunal. Our wish is that she may continue to inspire others through her gift of song.

"The Lord is my strength and my shield; my heart trusted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth; and with my song will I praise him." Psalms 28:7

MARILYN CASSELLS

Marilyn is one of Olivet's most gifted instrumentalists. A music education major, she has mastered the art of the violin. Active in the music program, Marilyn has been a member of Orpheus Choir, Orchestra, and Music Educator's Club. She served on the Glimmerglass Staff, the AURORA Staff, W.R.A. Council, and belonged to the Honor Society, S. E. A., and English Guild. For her we foresee a fruitful life as she shares her art with many.

"The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?" Psalms 27:1

CAROLYN BIRCHARD

Carolyn is one of our most vivacious seniors. She has been a campus leader as Student Council secretary, president of the Home Economics Club, and a member of the 1958 Tip-Off Queen's Court. Carolyn was a member of the Apollo Choir, English Guild, Honor Society, S. E. A., W. R. A. Council, AURORA Staff, and "O" Club. A home economics major, Carolyn has well represented her department at numerous conventions. With her determination and drive she will be a great asset to the teaching profession.

"I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust." Psalms 91:2

JOSEPH BENNINGTON

Joe is a major in both secondary education and English, but he will be remembered for his zeal for missions. He has been active in English Guild, Honor Society, Platonian Philosophical Society, Ministerial Fellowship, and Chancel Choir. Joe was fittingly president of Missionary Band, being called of God to serve on the mission field. For him we wish God's guidance and direction as he assumes the challenge of sharing Christ with others who know Him not.

"Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be dismayed: for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest." Joshua 1:9

PAUL MEYER

Paul, a loyal member of the Honor Society, has the highest grade average in the senior class. A major in economics, he enjoys his field, planning to enter it in the area of teaching. We shall always remember Paul's determination to overcome his physical handicap, and the manner in which he enriched his own life and the lives of others while doing so. We wish for him the fulfillment of every goal, knowing his resoluteness will help him conquer all.

"...but we glory in tribulations also: knowing that tribulation worketh patience; And patience, experience; and experience, hope: And hope maketh not ashamed; because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us."
Romans 5:3:5

EVELYN GRAY

Evelyn's goal has been perfection in all that she has undertaken at Olivet. She has evidenced her superiority academically by being awarded the Greene Scholarship. A home economics major, Evelyn is gracious both as a hostess and as a friend. She was president of the Home Economics Club and a member of Apollo Choir, English Guild, Science Club, Honor Society, S.E.A., and the Glimmerglass Staff. She is well prepared for a useful and promising future, possessing a warm, friendly personality, a level head, and a keen mind.

"For me to live is Christ . . ." Philippians 1:19

MAURICE HOWE

Maurice last year received the distinct honor of being the Junior Marshal, the honor given to the junior man having the highest point average. A history major, Maurice served as president of the International Relations Club and Missionary Band officer. He has also been an active member of the Honor Society, S.E.A., and the Glimmerglass Staff. We know that his efficiency and determination will assure him success and happiness as a teacher.

"Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding." Proverbs 3:5

EVANGELINE BURTCH

Vangi, a transfer student from Spring Arbor Junior College, soon became a part of the Olivet family, showing us her willingness and ability to serve in various capacities. A music education major, she has contributed much to our musical department by serving in Orpheus and Apollo Choirs and Music Educator's Club. A diversified student, Vangi has been active in Sociology Club, English Guild, Honor Society, S.E.A., Glimmerglass Staff, AURORA Staff, and Trojan cheerleading. May her future be filled with happiness.

"The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust . . ."
Psalms 18:2

Gene Shea, treasurer; Carolyn Shrum, secretary; Charlie James, president; Art Davis, vice president.

Four years at Olivet . . .

"It doesn't seem possible . . . ." Our senior year has come and gone so rapidly. Enmeshing ourselves in a net of new activities such as student teaching, filling out work applications, and seeking interviews, we have at last faced ourselves. We realize that college days are over; the future is before us. In gratitude we say, "Because of Olivet, that future is bright. Through the influence of her teachers and other leaders she has given us the knowledge of the truth; Olivet has given us her best. Therefore, we wish to dedicate our lives in service to others, thus magnifying the ideal of the Christian college!"

Three years at Olivet . . .

"Our Olivet . . ." This was the year we entered our field of specialization; the year we pursued our first major studies. It was also a busy year for extracurricular activities.

We were given responsibilities we had never dreamed we were capable of; but assuming this leadership both directly and indirectly has greatly broadened our lives at Olivet academically, religiously, and socially and given us in a small measure the opportunity to serve the school which previously served us.

Yes, our junior year is past, but with more confidence and greater poise we eagerly anticipate that golden senior year at the Christian college.

Sophomores

Two years at Olivet . . .

Olivet is "home" now and we returned this year with a new and greater enthusiasm to pursue our goals and ambitions. We were no longer first year college students; we "knew our way around."

This was the year we did the initiating through the guise of a Freshmen Labor Day. Yes, this was a year filled with fun and excitement, but it was also a year in which we strove to improve ourselves. After all we were expected to; we were sophomores.

We have now reached the half-way mark. These past two years have been years of enrichment and enlightenment in our lives, but we know the future will be even greater at this, our Christian college.

Freshmen

One Year at Olivet . . .

Is it really true? It seems impossible that we have actually completed one whole year of college. The year has flown so quickly—almost like a dream. Only yesterday we arrived on campus, "green," bewildered freshmen, but after those first few hectic weeks we became oriented to college life. It is now a part of us. We enjoy this hustle-bustle world of unceasing activity, and we are looking forward with zest to unlimited possibilities which loom in the future here at this Christian college.

Theological Certificate and Ministerial Studies

There are two special courses offered for ministers in the Division of Religion and Philosophy. The Theological Certificate course is for those who qualify for college entrance but who wish to finish their course of study in three years. This course, consisting of ninety-six hours, places its main emphasis on subjects in Bible and theology, but includes courses in English, psychology, speech, philosophy, music, and history.

The Ministerial Studies Program is the other course offered for ministerial candidates. This is an adult education program designed for those who do not meet college entrance requirements. This course is constructed to meet the requirements for a district preacher's license.

IN THIS DIVISION:

Publications

Organizations and Clubs

Music

Religion

Through our many organized activities each student has been afforded the opportunity to express himself. We have found that by working together as a group we can accomplish any goal.

The leader, so vital a part of any campus, must exemplify the purpose for which his club or organization strives.

Leaders on Olivet's campus must also be examples in their Christian lives.

Through co-operation, as members, and the exercise of guidance, as leaders, on the Christian college campus we become better prepared to serve our world in the future.

The Aurora . . . Reflection of a Year

For each individual the Aurora holds a different meaning. It portrays college life from the student viewpoint and attempts to reflect the past year of activities and accomplishments. It also serves as a ready reference guide for identifying individuals and campus groups—but sophistries on the functions of the book do not reveal the hours of office work, the pages of copy, or the rolls of film that go into the making of the final product. As the deadline approaches, work reaches a fevered pitch and the staff watches the sun rise over Kankakee as they complete the last pages of the book. The office is strangely quiet after the trip to the printer—the staffers have retired, exhausted.

Glimmerglass . . . Capture of Student Pulsations

Tonya Beals
Editor-in-Chief

J. F. Leist
Faculty Advisor

"A nose for news" aptly characterizes the staff of Olivet's bi-monthly publication, the GLIMMERGLASS.

Since its early beginning this up-to-date newspaper has been a mirror of campus life as its purpose so clearly indicates "to mirror the spiritual, academic, and social activities of the six divisions."

Assigning articles, proofreading the copy, getting ads, drawing up the dummy, keeping late hours, trying to get a review of all the news are only a few of the tasks behind the scenes.

Under the responsible leadership of its editor, Tonya Beals, and faculty advisors, Dr. J. F. Leist and Miss Vivian Musnug, the GLIMMERGLASS has striven to give its readers up-to-date information on international affairs as well as a variety of news and views of campus life.

With a circulation of 1200 the GLIMMERGLASS is not only in demand on the campus, but also regularly received by District Superintendents, Alumni, and friends of Olivet. Truly, it is the mirror of Olivet.

Student publications are an integral part of the Christian College; their primary function is to reflect and interpret campus action. Requiring the talents of many, the publications staff members vary from proof-reader to editor, salesman to business manager, each displaying his own style—serious, humorous, artistic.

Journalism challenges the creative instinct of the writer to the fullest. Diligence and time are required of the journalists, but the personal satisfaction he receives from realizing his job has been well done, makes him feel it was worth the effort.

Organizations & Clubs

Constantly trying to find his niche in the college world, a student may attempt the extracurricular in campus government, or in interest organizations and clubs. Here, for the capable, ambitious worker is an opportunity for advancement.

Each organization and club exists for a purpose. The purposes may be differently stated but all have this common goal—the enrichment of the student's experience in specific areas, challenging him to higher achievement.

Student Council . . . The Voice of the Students

The Student Council is the governing unit of the organization of Associated Students of Olivet Nazarene College. All matters of interest to the student body which it desires to have presented to the administration or to the faculty are presented through the Council. Membership to the Council is by election.

This year, President Sheffer initiated standard legal voting procedure for the student body election. Chuck Nichols carried out the new system of handling funds of the student body.

Student Tribunal

Standing: D. Braselton, R. Nees, J. Brian. Seated: D. Grothaus, L. Luttrell, J. Erwin, G. Shea, M. Hunsley, P. Cunningham, chairman.

The Student Tribunal is a subsidiary organization of the Student Council and has the responsibility of interpreting the Student Handbook and arbitrating any disputes concerning the constitution of the Student Body.

Paul Cunningham served as chairman, and Linda Luttrell served as secretary this past year.

Among the accomplishments for the year were a reclassification of student officers and a revision of organizational constitutions.

Planning major all-school parties designated for Student Council sponsorship is the responsibility of the Student Social Committee. Two representatives from each class and a chairman appointed by the Student Council comprise this group. Sponsored this year were "Alpine Holiday" and "Moonlight and Roses," the Christmas and Valentine parties respectively. These were the winter and spring highlights of the college social year.

Seated: C. Shrum, chairman; E. Bowen, H. Reeves, S. Davis, S. Collier.

M. R. H. A. Council

Men's Residence Hall Association

Chapman Hall has a staff of efficient receptionists—here Gene Woods is on duty.

The M.R.H.A. is the governing council of the men's dorm. Its main function is to maintain discipline in the men's dorm.

In this council, Charlie James served as president. The council joined with the W.R.A. for a combined Christmas Party. As a constructive project, the M.R.H.A. set up a T.V room, located in the basement of Chapman Hall. New furnishings were purchased and the walls were painted an army green.

Seated: D. Larrance, K. Feidler, C. Shrum, T. Beals, J. Mangum, M. Trimble, president.
Standing: L. Beatty, M. Hunsley, S. Stivison, S. Nyhus.

W. R. A. Council Women's Residence Association

The W.R.A. is the council of the women residents of the campus. The purpose of this association is to foster the spirit of co-operation and responsibility among its members and to uphold the Christian standards of Olivet. The council also acts upon matters of a judicial nature.

Marilyn Trimble has served as the W.R.A. president this past year. The other officers include Joy Mangum, vice president; Carolyn Shrum, secretary; Kay Fiedler, recording secretary; Mary Lee Hunsley, treasurer.

Besides sponsoring the usual dorm parties they attempted a constructive project, remodeling the recreation room into a beautiful T.V. room. They repainted and carpeted the room and equipped it with modern furnishings.

Student Education Association

The purpose of the Olivet chapter of the S.E.A. is to develop a program designed to acquaint all students with the history, ethics, and program of the organized teaching profession.

An attempt is made to bring the teacher supply and demand into a reasonable balance through the dissemination of information and the promotion of higher standards of teacher preparation.

Honor Society

The Honor Society aims primarily to give honor to deserving students and to serve as an incentive for high scholarship. Membership is based on the student's achievement of a cumulative average of B or over or honor roll standing for the previous year. This club is relatively new, this being its fourth year of existence.

English Guild

The purpose of the English Guild is to stimulate an interest in great literature, contemporary and earlier, and its relationship to life and truth, to encourage creative writing among its members and the student body, and to uphold as vitally important the ideals of the Christian College.

Sociology Guild

The Sociology Club attempts to acquaint its members with contemporary social problems through discussion and investigation.

Brotherhood of all men, regardless of race, color, creed, or religion has been emphasized by various noted speakers who have addressed the club.

Science Club

The purpose of the Science Club is three-fold: to promote a greater interest in and appreciation of science in our college, to share scientific knowledge among ourselves, and others on the campus, and to stress the practical applications of the sciences.

Platonian Philosophical Society

The purpose of the Platonian Philosophical Society is to seek to understand contemporary affairs through philosophical analysis, to promote a greater general interest in philosophy on Olivet's campus, to bring to the campus from time to time noted speakers in the area of philosophy, and to establish a medium for the interplay of ideas between the members.

Missionary Band

The Missionary Band aims primarily to keep the cause of missions ever before the school and to encourage every student to give and pray.

As a project for this year, the members chose to furnish enough money for the building of a national workers' home in Nyasaland, Africa.

Commerce Club

The Commerce Club purposes to help students prepare for the everyday business situations and problems that they will meet later in life.

Special activities this year included the annual sponsorship of the Business Men's Conference, several field trips, outings, and a banquet.

Row one: S. McRoberts, D. Armstrong, G. Woods, Prof. Anderson, R. Helms, P. Petrie.

Ministerial Fellowship

The purpose of the Ministerial Fellowship is to promote understanding and fellowship among members, to increase the efficiency of each member in terms of Christian leadership, and to help through united prayer and effort to keep God's blessing upon the college.

Public Affairs

The Public Affairs Club seeks to interest students of Olivet in politics, public affairs, and international relations.

Sponsored mainly by the Department of History and Political Science, it has offered many lectures and other interesting programs throughout the year.

Row one: Prof. Stewart, Prof. Humble, H. Kiley, R. Hencye, K. Hendricks, L. Thomas, M. Howe, M. Roseman.

Music Educators

The Music Educators Club seeks to present the challenge of education through music and to acquaint future teachers with the activities of music educators all over the nation and with current materials of the profession. Field trips and special lectures were featured this year.

Organ Guild

The Gale Organ Guild attempts to increase appreciation of an organist's responsibilities, duties, and opportunities as a conductor of worship, to provide its members with opportunities for the discussion of professional topics, and to raise the efficiency of organists.

Row four: J. Blackburn, P. Tyler, M. Matson, E. Miller, S. Williams, N. Craw, P. Thornton, M. Lindquist.

Home Economics Club

The girls of the Home Economics Club have as their purpose "better living through service to others." The club's activities are geared to prepare the members of the club for service in the home, school, and community. Various demonstrations, dinners, and fashion shows were sponsored by this club this year.

Chess Club

The Chess Club, most recently organized club on campus, purposes to promote the intellectual, stimulating, and recreational pastime of chess.

The club not only aims at teaching interested students the art of chess, but actually sponsors an annual chess tournament, the winner of which receives an engraved plaque.

Row one: G. LeVee, M. Roseman, D. McMurrin, J. Erwin, D. Stanford.

Music

The sound of music fills the air any day you walk across campus, passing Olivet's Goodwin Hall. The beginning student learning his piano scales, the senior music major practicing a classical aria in preparation for his senior recital, Orpheus or Apollo Choir rehearsing for a worship service—all can be heard on our campus. Music is truly a vital part of Olivet's program of education.

Orpheus Choir, whose founder and former conductor was Dr. Walter B. Larsen, offers opportunity in the singing of the highest type of sacred music literature, for the artistic, cultural, and spiritual development of Christian young people.

Now in its twenty-eighth year, Orpheus is still upholding this objective under the capable leadership of Mrs. Naomi Larsen.

Numerous activities and appearances have dotted the Orpheus calendar. On Sunday evening, December 7, the choir presented sacred music to the Sunday Evening Club at Orchestra Hall in Chicago.

Members of the choir experienced another wonderful tour, presenting concerts in various churches throughout Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, and Missouri, from April 24 to May 3.

Ron Angles served as president and Paul Cunningham as vice president. Other officers were Sally Davis, secretary; Cliff Everett, treasurer; Linda Luttrell, social chairman; and Marilyn Kremer, chaplain. Serving as librarian and robe custodians were Roger Kennedy, Tom Thompson, and Lee Bolland.

Apollo Choir

Bottom row: B. North, R. Runyan, S. Nyhus, T. Curtis, B. Sass, C. Aslinger, O. Young, D. Rodgers, S. Kaley, L. Thomas, E. Kappan, S. Silvers.

Apollo Choir, one of the most active musical groups on campus, has continued to present sacred music of the highest caliber to audiences in off-campus concerts as well as in College Church.

Apollo began its activities by entertaining new members at a fall picnic. In addition to numerous local appearances the choir and conductor, Prof. Donald Murray, represented the school in a brief spring tour. The concerts proved to be a real blessing and inspiration to the various congregations and the choir members experienced a tour long to be remembered.

To climax the year's activities Apollo and conductor were entertained with a spring banquet.

Darel Grothaus served as Apollo Choir president, assisted by Fred Stiles, vice president; Terry Curtis, treasurer; Jeanne Eckley, secretary; and Dave Bowman, chaplain.

The choir again completed an outstanding year in its ministry of music.

Seated: Ovid Young, accompanist; Sue Kaley, Beth Hatcher, Sally Davis, Lee Bolland, Karen Swinehart, Shirley Collier, Geneene Morrisson, June Shirkey.

Olivetians

Completing their second year, the blazer-clad Olivetians have continued to serve the school and community with their light songs and hearty entertainment. Their record this year has been marked with great success and accomplishment, both in their service and organization. The superb directing and leadership of Professor Liddell prompted a strong program with the help of the officers —Tom Thompson, president; Ron Angles, vice president; Shirley Collier, secretary; Geneene Morrisson, program chairman—and the co-operation of the entire ensemble.

The Olivetians were especially busy during the Christmas season, singing for the Christmas Party, church groups, service clubs, and other civic affairs.

In honor of a highly successful year, the group enjoyed a banquet dinner at the Log Restaurant in Dyer, Indiana, climaxed at the Sportsman's Show in Chicago.

First row: K. Sheffer, P. Tyler, N. Smith, C. Bangs.
Second row: D. Reedy, J. Erwin, J. Beard, R. Stiles.

Brass Choir

Brass Choir, under the direction of Dr. Carl Bangs, is a small but select instrumental group. This ensemble is an advanced seminar in literature for brass instruments. They perform recently published compositions and contemporary classics for brass as well as newly edited music of the sixteenth and seventeenth century.

The choir has appeared in several Kankakee churches on various occasions. Completing a highly successful year the Brass Choir has functioned under its president, Jeriel Beard, and its secretary-treasurer, Patricia Tyler.

Olivet Symphony

The Olivet Symphony has concluded another profitable year under Prof. Harold Hopkins as director.

The Orchestra appeared in chapel on several occasions and performed at the special Tip-Off ceremonies.

A highlight at the end of the first semester was the annual winter concert. The following night the members attended a pop concert at Chicago's Orchestra Hall.

The orchestra also performed at the Commencement Concert May 27, presenting several orchestral compositions and accompanying graduating soloists from the Division of Fine Arts. The Olivet Symphony and Marching Band combined for an annual banquet to round out this year's activities.

Serving as president for the year was Norman Smith with assisting officers, George Dunbar, vice president; Marilyn Cassells, secretary-treasurer; and Jeriel Beard, librarian.

Bottom row: J. Flaugh, M. Cassells, L. Cox, M. Hackett, R. McInturff, G. Cline, D. Cavins.
Second row: K. Sheffer, P. Tyler, D. Askew, L. Luttrell, P. Penner, J. Coil, G. Dunbar.

Third row: G. Craig, E. Wright, S. Francis, R. Smith, J. Meyer, J. Beard, R. Preston, M. Ingalls, M. Frame, K. Roth.
Fourth row: D. Farrar, J. Earles, B. Dyon, R. Stiles, B. Bouse.

Olivet Marching Band

Olivet's first "official" marching band, under the direction of Prof. Harlow Hopkins, was outstanding in its performance at various Tip-Off activities. The band added much to the football games, presenting lively tunes and various formations. During basketball season the band was always on the sidelines with peppy marches to lift the spirits of the fans.

Leading the band and also performing separately was the drill team with high, precise steps and fascinating routines.

Band officers for the year were Robert Stiles, president; Duane Askew, vice-president; Patricia Tyler, secretary; and Jim Erwin, treasurer.

Drill Team

S. Milby, R. Steininger, J. Lambert, P. Thornton, C. Davidson, C. Diekson.

Religion

Religion is necessarily an integral part of the Christian College. Emphasis is placed upon the religious life in diverse ways—not only on the part of the college faculty and administration but also on the part of the students themselves.

While religion is stressed by college-sponsored services—chapel, revivals, outside speakers—the students have their own organized service and worship groups. The religious tone of the Olivetian is indirectly felt in conversation and in the general perspective of the individual.

Evangels . . . an Outlet for Service

One of the purposes of a Christian college is to develop the Christian character of its students. An important aspect of this goal is giving an opportunity to witness to others of the Savior whom they serve.

This outlet for service is provided at Olivet by the Evangels, a group enthusiastic about furthering the kingdom of our Lord. These young people visit rest homes and hospitals in the Kankakee area, bringing cheer and inspiration to the ill and aged. Services consist of group singing, testimonies, and Scriptural messages of salvation through Christ.

The Evangels have found that by sharing their Lord with others who know Him not, they receive a personal blessing and win others for the Lord.

Students have opportunity to do personal work with shut-ins.

*Lasting friendships are made through weekly visits

A Blessing is given and one is received.

Welcome to Prayer Band.

Prayer Band . . . Hour of Inspiration

The highlight of spiritual life on campus is Student Prayer Band, an active group providing opportunity to students for spiritual worship and fellowship.

Four evenings a week the Prayer Chapel is filled with students who seek a spiritual lift from the cares of a hectic day, desiring to praise and testify of a loving and protecting God.

Each year Prayer Band undertakes a project, making a contribution to Kelly Prayer Chapel. This year's project was the purchasing of new hymnals. The contributor's name has been printed inside each hymnal, which will be used only in the Prayer Chapel.

Spence is enthusiastic in leading the group in choruses and songs.

Hearts are lifted to God in prayer.

Each evening the group hears special music by fellow students.

Students have opportunity to individually testify to the love of Christ.

Our College Church Pastor . . .

Rev. Nash

Throughout the year, hundreds of visitors frequent our campus. As these friends come and go, what is it that impresses them? One word answers this question—atmosphere. It pervades the classroom, the social activity, athletics, and the religious life.

This distinctive atmosphere is not an accident, nor does it come by any psychological push-button. Rather it is the result of a Christ-centered program. Christ is a living experience in the hearts of administrators, faculty members, and students alike. He likewise is the guiding principle of policy and practice.

From this divine center moves the mind to explore the fields of learning and discovery. There is a humble recognition of God whose purpose for man is divinely set forth in time and finally resolved in eternity. Man is not left to his own moorings of despair—Christ is given as a Saviour for his sin, as a plan for his life and as a power for his immortality. Faith has staked all in His Word and in His life. He is the sole reason for living. His abiding presence brings joy and purpose every day.

Students give themselves to study that they may have better trained minds to dedicate to Christ. Athletics serve to develop healthy bodies that they may be strong temples of the Holy Spirit. Social activity deepens the students' appreciation for human personality. And all this in order that tomorrow's vocation and calling may glorify God.

These are the underlying features which give significance to this distinctive atmosphere. This climate is the norm for a divinely called ministry, a Bible-centered religious faith, a Christian life of self-denial, church services of vital evangelism, worship, prayer, and service. We are thankful for such an atmosphere at Olivet Nazarene College. Our task at College Church is to proclaim the Wesleyan message of full salvation and to promote in activity that which keeps alive this distinctive climate which is a must at a Holiness College.

Graduates of 1959, we congratulate you and wish you God's best.

Forrest W. Nash

Revivals . . . A Time of Introspection

The Christian spirit which permeates our campus prevails only because devoted men and women have kept alive the true spirit of Christianity. Our purpose is to see that this spirit stays alive. The three revivals each year are a major factor in helping to keep this spiritual emphasis on campus.

Revivals are used of God to present the simple plan of salvation and sanctification to the person who has not accepted God's best for his life. Our revivals help the Christian as well as the non-Christian. To the Christian revivals are a means of emphasizing the importance of daily living for Christ and of witnessing to those who do not know Him.

This school year opened with a wonderful revival held by Rev. Harold Daniels, District Superintendent of the Illinois District. The Lord used Rev. Daniels in leading students to the Lord and in grounding many in their experiences of salvation and sanctification.

Rev. Charles Hastings Smith conducted the Youth Revival in January. His colorful, southern poetry vividly portrayed many scriptural truths. His direct preaching brought to our campus a revitalizing spiritual lift.

Dr. B. V. Seals was the Spring evangelist. His earnest spirit and impressive messages resulted in a deep spiritual awakening among both students and faculty.

IN THIS DIVISION:

Football

Basketball

Other Sports

The ideal Christian is one who is well-rounded in all phases of his life: mental, spiritual, and physical. To be at our best we must develop and maintain physical strength.

Olivet's athletic program has been designed to strengthen the physical life of the student. As this purpose is being accomplished, the spiritual life is also enriched, for the Christian not only plays with determination to win, but seeks to do so in a clean and fair manner.

Football

"Mac" announces the plays.

The 1958 season of football was one to remember. Before the gridiron spectators witnessed the first game, the wizards of this sport picked the Trojans to come in first place. This, however, was not the way the Indians and the Spartan teams felt about it. So from the beginning a strong spirit of rivalry sprang up between the three well-qualified teams, and the season progressed in a close and thrilling manner. The Indians, seemingly the most determined of the three societies, came out on top in the final standings. Each of the teams put forth its best effort, and consequently a constant excitement was felt from the season's beginning to its end.

The key to a successful football season proved to be the spirit shown by the student body, as well as by the three teams. Students flocked to the games, sometimes in nearly unbearable weather, in numbers greater than ever before attained. The way that loyal Indian, Spartan, and Trojan backers attended the games this season should be a good sign of what we can expect next year. Good teams always seem to perform better when the roar of enthusiastic rooters can be heard, and it is this that gave the 1958 football season its unusual success.

Indians

From the first to the last of the season the mighty Red savagely struck, determined to better last year's season. The Indians set themselves to the task at hand—to win the football championship for the 1958 season. Although the race for first place seemed to get tighter, the fired-up Indian team came through and rested in the position sought by each of the football teams—first place.

With new blood playing excellently this season, next year could easily be another successful season for the Indian team.

Placing ten men on the football all-star listing rather well sums up why the Indians had the good season that they did have. A splendid job of coaching was done by Gus Sublette, a well-schooled participant of football himself. Honors for unusually good work go to the complete offensive unit, and especially to John Hursh, Art Hardy, Ron Nees, Ralph Hill and Warren Wynn, who did outstanding jobs on defense. Congratulations, Indians, for being the 1958 football champions.

Trojans

New freshmen and several sufficient stand-bys of past years put the "blue bruisers" in good position and high spirits to start the gridiron season. By placing several outstanding players on the "O" Club listing, the Trojans showed that they did have the right material for an excellent team. But the records show that even though the Trojans had some excellent players and high hopes of winning they placed only second in the season's wins. Next year should present a Trojan line-up to be watched.

Helping to give the Trojans its power were the Reedy brothers, Dave and Dale, Louie Burrell, Dale Owens and Larry Cox. Serving in the capacity of coach, Larry Cox proved to know the technicalities of football, and to possess the ability to apply them. The backing of a strong line of substitutes gave added punch to the Trojan attack. It is a fact that weight plays a large part in making a powerful football team, and here again the Trojans were not lacking, weighing in as the heaviest team this year.

Spartans

Playing as the "champs" of the year before, the Spartans showed a fighting spirit all the way. Those playing this year, that were members of the winning team last year, knew the thrill of being in first place, and again played at their best in the attempt to reach the top. Although the Spartan team possessed this competitive attitude, they met strong rivalry and eventually ended in last place, but not without a good fight.

The Spartan team was capably coached this season by Bob Judd, who showed his own competitive spirit in every game. Bob devoted himself to the coaching position, although it threatened to handicap him as an outstanding player. Gene Collier, Paul Hamlin, John Rishel, and Jim Bedinger, the Spartan all-stars, proved to be the power behind the Spartan team. The key problem of the Spartans, however, was probably the lack of weight in the players. The outlook for next year shows the Spartan line-up with several outstanding players returning, so look out Indians and Trojans—the Spartans will again rise to glory.

Unusual advancement was seen in the "O" Club this past school year, largely attributable to the excellent work of our athletic director, Professor Clarence Ward. Prof. "Butch" Ward rightfully deserves credit for the progress the "O" Club team has made this year and for the effort he has put into building up the athletic department.

A coach is often thought of merely as a manager of an athletic team or group, but this is not an adequate description of a coach at Olivet Nazarene College. At a Christian college like Olivet, where sports are joined to a spiritual program, it is necessary for a coach to be more than a mere manager of a team. The good coach will learn to know his athletes personally, and will do what he can to help them not only physically and mentally, but spiritually as well. Special praise is given to "Coach" Ward in these respects, for he has done an excellent job. Everyone who has come to know Professor Ward has learned to love him and to have a high regard for his radiant Christian character. A salute to our fine athletic director, Professor Clarence Ward.

Cage Season

Ups and Downs for Teams

As can readily be seen by glancing at the final standings, this basketball season was a good one. Many of the games were close enough for an average spectator to go through ten previously beautiful fingernails in quick fashion. While the Indians had the largest total offensive scoring, the Spartans and Trojans were not very far behind. General overtime games added to the overflow of excitement, and the spirit generated by the unusual numbers of spectators was another key factor in making the season a thrilling one. As the players were being spurred on by the cheers of the crowd, the band was doing its part by playing during the game. Professor Hopkins and his loyal band members gave a lift to the spirit of the basketball games.

Indian Men's Basketball

Although off to a slow start, the Indians regained enough power to tie with the Spartans for the basketball championship. A hustling team is what proved to be the contributing factor in the "big red" comeback. Coach Ray Reglin's technique of varying the starting five nearly every game proved to be a successful practice. Efficient rebounding was seen in the playing of Spence Hedrick and Don Lytle, while out front in the Indian threat was the dynamic trio of Gus Sublette, Preston Figge, and Howard Owens. Along with these regulars were several capable substitutes, who often contributed very highly to the success of the victorious Indian squad. Scoring honors for the year go to Hedrick, Owens, and Lytle.

Spartan Men's Basketball

Battling their way against two other equally determined squads, the Spartans rounded out the season in a first place tie with the Indians. Being led by the excellent scoring of Montez Lobb, Wayne Hopewell, and Paul Dishong, the "green-clad" squad had one of its best season records in recent years. The Spartans lose the contributions of the drive-shot artist Paul Dishong this year, but with most of the team returning, and the speculation of some new material next year, we should see some good results from the Spartans next season.

The coaching of Spartans for the year was performed very capably by Jerry Snowden.

Trojan Men's Basketball

After the Trojans earned first place in basketball last year, beating the Trojans was the primary goal for the other societies this season. Although the Trojan spirit was excellent, they were defeated in most of their games and eventually were placed in the basketball cellar. The unimpressive record is, however, not an accurate account of the credit that the hard-working "ex-champs" deserve. Determination was always evident as the Trojan men fought at their best until the last buzzer had sounded. Several players will be lost due to graduation this year, but there will still be enough capable players to begin a team with plenty of scoring punch for next year.

High scorers for the season were Tom Craig, who was also coach, Larry Hendricker, and Jim Hutchinson. Perhaps a big factor in the string of Trojan defeats was the loss of Jerry Petrie, who graduated at semester change. Jerry's brilliant record had been an inspiration to the Trojans more than once.

Craig lays one in against the Spartans.

Trojan Girls' Basketball

The Women's Basketball Championship was won by the Trojans for the third consecutive year with a 7-1 won-lost record.

The major factors contributing to the outstanding record of the Blue and White were the returning letter women and the addition of several superior freshmen.

The consistent scoring offense was provided by the three starting forwards: Marilyn Trimble, who had a 18.9 average for the year, Evelyn Bowen, who had a 13.1 average, and Roberta Hunter who averaged 11 points. These girls were ably assisted by the defensive corps of Dorothy Acord, Roberta Cosner, and Eloise Miller, who were tops in rebounding and ball-handling. In several games the substitutes played an important part in the continued success of the team.

The outstanding freshmen were Evelyn Bowen and Eloise Miller. They both earned positions on the All-

Star Team. Three-year letter winners were Marilyn Trimble, Roberta Hunter, and Dorothy Acord.

The determined spirit and good sportsmanship of the team was evident in every game the Trojans played.

Spartan Girls' Basketball

The Spartans finished the season in second place for the first time in many years with a 3-5 won-lost record.

This year's team was much improved over previous teams by the return of Marlene Hayes, their amazing freshman forward.

The offense was comprised of Sue Conrad with 13.9 points per game, Marlene Hayes with an 11.9 average, and Pat Dickey who had a 10.4 average. Playing defense were Leola Hay, Joyce Cole, and Lila Owens.

The spirit of the Spartans was terrific. They had the desire to win which was the contributing factor to their improved record.

Two Spartan guards, Leola Hay and Joyce Cole, were selected as first year letter winners for the All-Star Team. Second year All-Star honors went to Sue Conrad.

Coach Paul Hamlin enthusiastically worked with his team and deserves praise for the over-all improvement of the team record for the year.

Indian Girls' Basketball

For the first time in years, the Indians tumbled into the cellar with a 2-6 won-lost record. However, this record does not reveal the close games played and the fine spirit displayed by this year's Redskins.

The Indian cause was aided by the return of Pat Hecht Wall who was the leading scorer for her society. Starting forwards were Pat Wall with a 15 point average, Noni Shearrer with an 11.2 average, and Sharon Gaskill with a 4.5 average.

The defense was composed of Faith Reynolds, Marilyn Baker, and Joy Pavv. These girls sparked the team, but lack of scoring caused the defeats.

Red and White's contribution to the All-Star team was Pat Wall, forward, and Faith Reynolds, guard.

Scott Gardner, coach for the second year, is to be commended for his efforts in trying to lead the Indians through to a winning season.

Softball

While the squads were battling on the "gridiron" there was also plenty of action on the softball diamond. After a victorious season last year, the Trojans again set out to prove that they were the team to beat, and they proved this by finishing in first place with an impressive seven-win and one-loss record. The unpredictable was ever present during the season, and was very evident as the "champs" were defeated in their only loss by the last-place Indians with a bitter 28-8 score. With many players to return next year, it should be a closely matched season, and one to look forward to.

Indian Girls' Softball

Even though the season got off to a slow start, the Indians came through in fine fashion. Although only two rounds were played, the Redskins compiled a good won-lost record of 4-0. As champions, they scored 52 runs while holding their opponents to 26.

This championship club received a big boost from their freshmen. The battery mates, Alice Snyder and Sharon Gaskill, were two good reasons why the Indians were undefeated. These two girls were the new Indian contribution to the All-Star Softball Team.

Joy Pavy, in her third year on the team and as captain, was also an important factor in the success of the Indians. Recognition is also due the other team members who did their best for the Red and White. This was by far their best softball season of the past three years. Their coach, Wes Robbins, had good reason to be proud of his team. Other Indians who were selected as All-Stars were Joy Pavy, Nona Shearrer, and Faith Reynolds.

Next year these girls will be out to defend the first place position.

Spartan Girls' Softball

This year's Spartan squad wound up in third place in the softball division with a record of 0-4. Their total runs scored were 23 while their opponents scored a total of 83.

Pat Dickey, again this year, sparked the spirit of the Green and White. Her fine work as the catcher and her "never-say-die" spirit won her honors as an All-Star. Sue Conrad was the other Spartan elected to the All-Star Team.

The entire Spartan squad is to be commended for their team spirit and "will-to-win" attitude. Their first year girls did a good job and more is expected of them in the coming season.

Coaching the Green and White this year was Don James, who worked hard in trying to "come through" with a winning team.

Next year the Spartans will be in there pitching for their society as they try for higher honors.

Trojan Girls' Softball

This year's Trojan girls' softball team placed second in the standings with a record of 2-2. This record does not reveal the true competition between the first and second place teams. The two losses came in the final inning of the games and both games were decided by a 1-run or 2-run difference. The total number of runs scored by the Blue and White was 60 while their opponents scored 26.

The outstanding freshman of the team was Janet Meier. Janet's spirit and enthusiasm and her exceptionally fine playing at second base earned for her the All-Star recognition.

Other freshmen team members, who were depended upon greatly by the Blue and White, should be acknowledged for their fine work. However, more is expected from these girls in next year's competition, since the Trojans will be out to recapture first place.

The Trojan stand-bys who were two and three year players were Roberta Cosner, Roberta Hunter, Dorothy Acord, and Marilyn Trimble. These four girls also placed on the All-Star Team.

Coach Mae Delbridge worked hard as he guided this year's team to its second place finish.

Field Day

Field Day is a term used only in a limited sense at Olivet, but which has deep-felt meaning to all fun-loving Olivetians. Around the middle of May, a complete day is set aside for an all-school outdoor track meet, which is held on our own well-tended track and field event area. It is on this day that everyone with any sporting blood in him at all participates in his chosen track and field events. This past year's Field Day was successful from start to finish. A beautiful sunny day was a perfect setting for Field Day activities. Almost as soon as the sun rose, Field Day participants could be seen jogging around to either get warmed up for the events ahead, or to do some quick training to compensate for being out of shape. As the day progressed, records were shattered, ribbons were won, noses were sun-burned, and many other inevitable happenings of a typical Field Day were witnessed.

"How reluctantly does the Senior look forward to the separation which comes with graduation. Often the . . . senses of joy and sorrow are so combined that the graduate, standing with diploma in hand, does not know whether to be happy or sad."

These words of F. Carlton Birchard, Alumni President in 1935, are true today, and so is his insight into the role of the Alumni Association in relation to the graduating senior. He wrote in the 1935 Aurora, that the Alumni Association was organized and is perpetuated for the purpose of sustaining the loyalty of the graduates of Olivet College, and to provide get-togethers for them which are "like being in school again."

Prof. Strickler congratulated by Wellman.

Wellman presents "O" Award to Dr. Willingham.

The 1958 Alumni "O" Awards were presented to Dr. T. W. Willingham, '15, of Kansas City, Missouri, and to Prof. Dwight J. Strickler, '29, of Olivet Nazarene College at the annual Alumni Dinner on May 28, in Miller Dining Hall. Two hundred and six persons attending the dinner witnessed the presentation by the Rev. Wendell Wellman, '39, vice-president of the Alumni Association. The citation read, "In recognition of outstanding service in your chosen field of endeavor, and of character and life reflecting the ideals of Olivet Nazarene College." This is the second year the awards for an outstanding minister and a layman have been given. Those receiving the awards are chosen by vote of the alumni.

The Last Word . . .

The 1959 Aurora has become a reality! There are many dreams and uncounted hours of work that have gone into the creation of this book. We are taking this last opportunity to extend our warmest thanks to the many people whose combined efforts have made it possible: our staff members, our advisor, our literary critic, our photographers, our printers, and our cover company.

The 1959 Aurora is finished—we hope that you have enjoyed reading it as much as we enjoyed creating it.
